The Class of 2011 would like to dedicate this yearbook to several deserving individuals:

Mrs. Creighton has been there for us from the beginning. We all put our trust in her and we have her to thank for sending everything to our colleges. Whenever you need someone to talk to, or just some candy to get you through the day, Mrs. Creighton is the person to see. Thank you, Mrs. Creighton, for everything you've done for us these past four years! Your help and time is greatly appreciated and we will surely miss seeing your shining face, even if we were there to complain about VHS Health.

Over the years, Mrs. Brindley has developed several sayings that all her students know by heart. The first quote students think of when talking about Mrs. Brindley is "Save your money for your bus fair home", which is undoubtedly is her most famous. Her dedication to her students was made very clear this year when she unplugged her classroom phone and took it off of the wall so her lecture wouldn't be disturbed. By second semester, guidance knew not to call students down if a student was in any of her classes. Mrs. Brindley will be graduating with the class of 2011, so we would like to thank her for making this a memorable year for us seniors. Thank you, Mrs. Brindley, for all of your perseverance during your last year at CHS. You will be missed as one of the best teachers in the math wing!

Ms. Sheridan (a.k.a Sheri),
You have always been and will forever be the class of 2011's favorite substitute teacher.
We grew up with you and we will truly miss your amazing stories.
Thank you for being you!

In Loving Memory Of:
Brian Brennan & Jacqueline Kurtz

Dom and Robert: You two have exemplified such strength and heart this year. The class of 2011 will forever be behind you in all that you pursue and know that we love you both unconditionally.

Also forever in our hearts: the Brooks Family, the Collins Family, and the Sadler Family sorry if we really did forget someone...

the weekly thoughts of a senior

Sunday 9:00pm

Better start thinking about taking my backpack out of the car...

Monday 7:30am

How am I here right now? A snickerdoodle iced coffee is necessary right about now.

Tuesday 10:35am

Am I into college yet? Better go see Ms. Creighton.

Wednesday 11:00am

alf way through the week!

Thursday 5:00pm

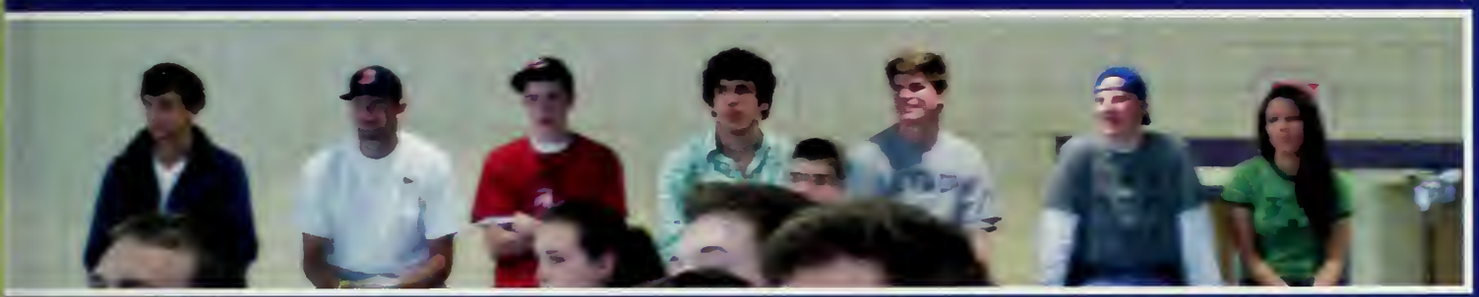
Tomorrow would be so ideal for a snowday.

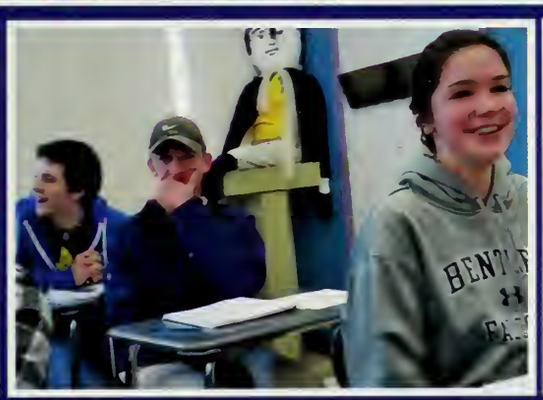
Friday 8:00pm

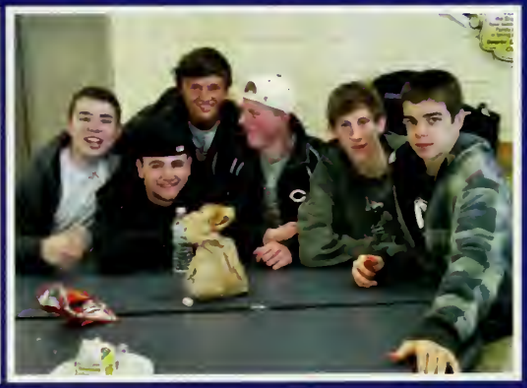
What to do in this town...

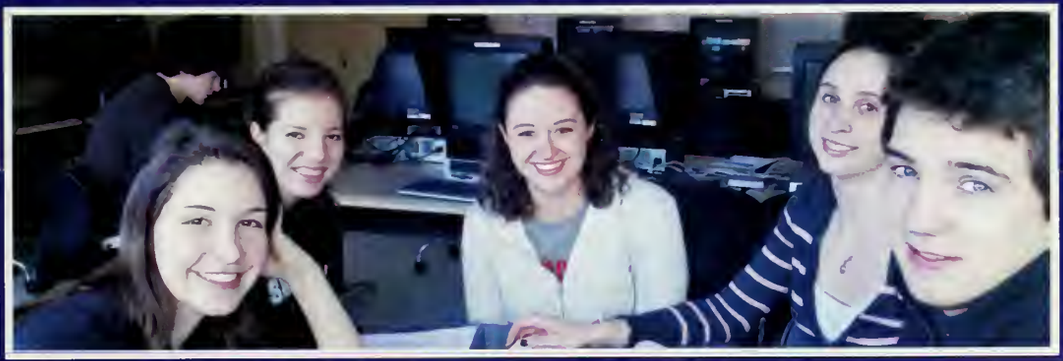
Saturday 12:30pm

7 fewer days until graduation!









Just a normal day at lunch:
waiting for someone to step in it while everyone watches
